FOCUS

CFLR's Basic Training: Family Law is a comprehensive program, designed and taught by experts in the field for lawyers and their support staff with limited experience in the practice of Family Law. It is also beneficial to family law lawyers who want a thorough review of best practices. This "how to" course takes you step-by-step in handling a marriage dissolution case, commencing with initial client intake and developing a competent case plan, seeking and resisting immediate pendente lite relief, and continuing through to judgment and postjudgment matters. We focus on current practice and apply the new and amended procedures and forms.

You will learn the importance of each element of the Family Law forms – including the Petition and Response that begin the case, the Request for Order that initiates an OSC or motion hearing, the all-important Supporting and Responsive Declarations that can make or break your request for, or opposition to, interim orders, and the mandatory Declarations of Disclosure required to satisfy your clients' fiduciary duties. Our panel will also explain the substantive law and strategies to be considered in competently maneuvering through the many forms and procedures. No matter which side you represent, you will hear invaluable practice pointers from the experts.
